Finally, Spring is here, which means it's time to pack up your puffer coat and spice up some lacy lingerie. And in case your libido goes into hibernation all winter, let's remind you what's missing. Here are 13 reasons why spring sex is pretty fantastic. 1. This month's forecast: Sexy! Seriously, something in the warmer weather just makes you undress. Plus, the mild forecast does wonders for skin and hair, and oh look, you can see your feet again! Bonus: Everyone else shows a lot more skin. You didn't realize your barricade had such cool biceps... 2. Sex with the windows open is only warmer. There really is only one thing better than sleeping with the windows open for a nice spring night... and it's sex with the windows open for a nice spring evening. Think of it as exhibitionism without threatening to go to jail. Just close the blinds – your neighbors will thank you. 3. It's just as sensual as summer... without sweat. Those summer months get all sexual glory, but it's hard to feel hot when you're, rightly so hot! When your bedroom becomes a sauna during sex, it's a little hard to get in the mood. 4. April showers are awesome, just ask chick flicks. Remember that humid scene between Noah and Ali in the Notebook during the downpour? Or, you know, every kiss in the rain ever? The next time you start drizzle during the date, take your cue to get out instead of reaching for the umbrella. Cliché? Sure. Is it still romantic? Completely. Giphy.com 5 is replaced by the following: The scandal is on pause. Oh, hey, your Thursday nights are free again! While you're waiting for Olivia Pope to hand things over again, she's going to be like Huck and Quinn, and she's going to go somewhere completely unexpected. (Actually, we're going to recommend that you don't have sex in your office... but these places are still up for grabs!) 6. Two words: allergy season. Your raging sniff makes you want to stay in... In bed... All day long... Naked. And that's perfectly acceptable. In fact, we're pretty sure your scratchy throat and bloody eyes are going to make you want to work. 7. The foreplay repertoire just expanded. Be realistic, there is no way to use ice cubes during foreplay in December. But now that the foreplay is step back on the table as well as being out in the pool or hitting up a secessive spot in the park, it's busy. This time, you're just going to have the right kind of goose bump. 8. The body's confidence is booming again. Maybe it's because the skin isn't as dry and scaly as it used to be, or maybe it's the fact that it ended up working off all the calories consumed over the holidays. Whatever the reason, you can begin to look and feel Much sexier again. And that deserves a few celebrations – in bed. reactiongifs.com Article 9(1) shall be replaced by the following: You wake up early. Sure, it's annoying to be woken up in the days of 7 a.m. (and come on, don't these birds really need to start singing that earlier this year?), but it also gives you more time for morning sex. And that's something worth waking up for. 10. It's mini skirt season. Call us crazy, but who doesn't feel sexier in a miniskirt than in a sweater and wool shorts? Not surprisingly, it is difficult to get in the mood if you have to take off 18 layers before you get to your underwear. Four layers down, and - no matter the moment has passed. 11. Even loungewear is on. Bye-bye flannel! Pis and alma mater sweater, it's already real. Actually, no, it was depressing, and it's not sexy at all. Now that we can replace you with lacy lingerie, tank tops and boxer shorts, or just our birthday suits, I bet we'll see a lot more late-night action. The flowers are back and super romantic. Would you like to bring the romance tonight? There is no shortage of flowering petals tossed onto the bed. Plus, having some nice, fragrant plants on the bedside table is much sexier than the sad, little bamboo kept there all winter. 13. Because it's natural. Mating season is one thing if you don't believe us, listen to all the critters getting it in your garden. Ok, so maybe mating season doesn't exactly work the same way for people, but there's no trouble with cleuing on that ancient urges and getting busy this month.
